Summary

Reading the stories published on various Internet sites, you'd think every babysitter is fucking the fathers, mothers, the kids and even the family pet. Well, maybe such crap makes for a nice fantasy but how close is it to reality? Here are some of the questions I've been asked along with my answers.

Note that if you're looking for an erotic expose or a hot story, don't bother reading this. For better or worse, reality is often not nearly as much fun as our fantasies.

When did you start babysitting?

My first time was when I was twelve. Technically, I was only watching the kids as the mom was still home but she worked at home and needed someone to watch the kids. I was really too young at that age to be left alone with young children. I started babysitting alone at night when I was thirteen at a neighbor's where at least I was close to home. I was fourteen before I started sitting for people who had to drive to pick me up and bring me home.

Have you ever had sex with any of the kids you babysat?

NEVER! Absolutely not. Not even close. In fact, not a single girl I know has either. While I'm sure it happens, it's not something I would ever condone or rationalize. A babysitter is entrusted with the most valuable things in a parent's life - their children. Abusing them by having any sort of secret sexual relationship would be a betrayal of that trust.

Have you ever had sex with any of the parents?

Only once. When I was twenty I had sex with a father (see my diary entry for July 6, 2005).

Have you ever encouraged or witnessed sex between any of the kids you babysat?

NEVER! Although it's something that seems to happen all the time in fantasy stories, I've NEVER witnessed young siblings having ANY sexual attraction between them in ANY way. If anything, at that age I'm thrilled if most siblings can even play together without fighting. Of course at younger ages there is a natural curiosity about the opposite sex (like, gee, what's that?) but I never witnessed anything more than that. Natural curiosity should not be confused with sexual attraction.

Have you ever masturbated when you babysat?

Of course BUT only when the kids were in bed and asleep. Even then I was always discreet in case one of them should suddenly appear unannounced.

Have you ever gone through the parents' private things?

Guilty as charged. I sometimes wonder if parents realize what babysitters do when they're left alone for hours with nothing to do but read and watch TV. Of course the refrigerator is fair game and I'll admit to raiding my fair share of those. There were times I would go into the parent's bedroom and snoop through their drawers and bathroom. It's not like they lock their bedroom door and I'm breaking in. I always made sure everything was back where I found it and to the best of my knowledge nobody ever knew what I'd done while they were out.

It's amazing what I found sometimes - sex toys, porn magazines, DVD's, "private" photo albums, sexy lingerie, even X-rated home videos in a few cases. Sometimes I would play with a toy if it looked interesting. Another favorite thing to do was to try on the wife's lingerie, assuming it was anywhere near my size, and then lay on the bed and masturbate as I fantasized about the husband fucking me or what they would do if they came home and caught me.

Of course, how far I went was dependent on the kids I was sitting. Fortunately, the best stuff was typically in the younger couple's bedrooms who also had the younger kids who went to bed early and slept soundly.

It wasn't just me either. A number of my friends told me that they did the same and we would compare notes about people who we both sat for so the next time we knew where to look. Odds are at least one of your sitters has done the same. Do you think they found anything?

Did the fathers ever look at you "that way" when they drove you to/from home?

Well duh! In fact, I would've been quite disappointed if they hadn't! It was really more of a game for me than anything. Except for the one guy I mentioned before who I had sex with, none of the fathers ever did anything overt like trying to touch me or saying anything sexy. It was fun pretending not to look at them but then catching them out of the corner of my eye stealing a glance at me - usually my boobs or legs. Seeing how hard they would try NOT to appear interested in me, even though I knew they were, was a turn-on for me as well. While I may not have done anything with them, more than a few times I wound up masturbating when I got home about what MIGHT have happened had he had a little more courage.

In all fairness it wasn't entirely their fault that they looked at me that way as I didn't exactly discourage them either. Although I didn't do anything TOO obvious like lift my skirt or play with myself, sometimes an extra button on my blouse mysteriously undid itself just as I was getting into his car. There may have been a few times I didn't pull my skirt down like a "good" girl should when I sat in the front seat. Overall, it was just innocent stuff like that.

Did you ever see any of the kids masturbating?

Actually this was more common than you might think - primarily regarding the older boys once they entered puberty. Usually it was to Internet porn on their computer in their bedrooms where they thought they weren't being watched. Masturbation is healthy so I never deliberately tried to embarrass them or let them know I was watching. Still, there were a few times I did so inadvertently when I walked in and surprised him (and me) as he was jerking off in front of his computer. About the only thing you can do is step out quickly and try to make it any worse for him than it already was.

Girls tended to be more discreet. A few times I would peek in to check on them when they were "sleeping" and from the movements under the covers it was pretty obvious what was going on. One more thing... don't kid yourselves - young girls look at internet porn too!

Did you ever touch any of the kids, like it was normal but you were actually fondling them?

NEVER! I never EVER had any sort of "inappropriate contact" with any of the kids I ever babysat. Not that I wasn't tempted but isn't anyone who deals with kid face such temptations? It's what we do when faced with such temptation that's important and I'm proud of my behaviors during those times. I never left a home with any worries that any of the kids would say anything to their parents about what their babysitter did to them.

Did any of the kids ever try to touch you or ask for sex?

I can't recall anything like that, at least not directly. Some of the older boys would look at me and I knew what was going through their minds by what was happening between their legs but I just ignored them when that happened so they wouldn't be embarrassed. From what I've been told and based on the number of babysitter fantasy stories posted on the Internet, I am sure a number of the boys WANTED to do something with me but in real life, nothing ever actually happened.

I have fantasized many a time about what MIGHT have happened had a young boy actually asked to have sex with me but for better or worse I was never faced with that situation. I like to think I would've handled it properly. I've always contended that ANY fantasy is OK so long as you know where the line is between fantasy and reality and don't cross it.

Did you ever fantasize about having sex with any of the kids?

Of course. Really, would you believe me if I said "No"? See my remark at the end of the last question about fantasies versus reality. In fact, I even wrote a series of fantasy stories about sex while babysitting which are posted in my FANTASY section of my website. They were based on an actual boy and girl I sat for many times and as they grew older I use to fantasize more and more about them. Still, I NEVER did anything for real with them.

Many of the older boys, AND some of the girls, were quite cute and I have to admit more than a few times some naughty thoughts would run through my mind, especially if I was more horny than usual. However, I NEVER acted out any of those fantasies.
