

Two lovers almost lost

It's a dark and stormy night so you decide to get into bed and cuddle up with your pillows and try to forget that you are all alone and the storm is kind of scaring you. You toss and turn for what seems like forever and finally feel yourself drifting off to sleep. You wake up a little while later to see, through the small amount of light coming in through the window, a man's figure standing over your bed. You start to scream when he reaches out and gently touches your cheek and you relax sensing he is not going to hurt you. You also start to speak but he quiets you and tells you to relax as he is not going to hurt you. You recognize his voice as that of your lover, who you had not seen or spoken to in almost two months. You had given him a key to your house and he must have used it to come in during the storm. You know then you are in safe company and you tell him you are fine and he is welcome to join you. He tells you that he came over to make sure you were okay as he knew how much you hated storms like the one outside. He gets into bed with you and it is then you realize he is nude. He reaches out to touch your breast and you hesitate because even though the last time you guys had seen each other it was wonderful, the last couple months had been hard on both of you because you couldn't be together. Finally you take his hand and put it on your breast and he bends over you and you kiss. The kiss is gentle but firm and you can feel his love for you through his lips and tongue. You give in and kiss him back with just as much passion. All the while he is gently playing with your nipple through your shirt that you always seem to wear to bed. As he is doing this you feel him start to move his other hand to the bottom of the shirt and slowly lift it up and you raise up to let him take it off of you. He replaces his hand with his mouth and is soon licking and sucking your nipple. He has his other hand on your other nipple giving it soft squeezes and pulls. You are soon moaning and telling him that you love him and are starting to beg him to touch your pussy. He stops sucking your nipple long enough to tell you to just lie back and enjoy the sensations as he was not going to rush things. He went back to your nipple and you grabbed his head and held him tight to you as you cum without him touching you anywhere else.

He knows that you are cumming and moves up to kiss you and you kiss him so hard you almost hurt yourself. You slowly come down for your orgasm and tell him that you love him and never want to be apart again. He tells you the same thing and you reach down to grab hold of his hard cock. You tell him that you want him to fuck you and fuck you hard with his iron cock. He tells you that he wasn't done with you yet and you could have his cock later. You start to moan in protest until you feel him nuzzle your neck and plant little kisses on it. This is driving you nuts and you beg him to not do that, he ignores you and continues but starts working his way down your body. He passes up your nipple he had enjoyed earlier to work on the other one but he did not stay there long as he had other plans for you. He worked his way down your body slowly kissing, licking, and nibbling along the way. He got to your panties and you lifted up for him to take them off of you. You figured he was going to eat you but he surprised you and did not but he worked his way down your leg to your toes. He knows sucking your toes is something that drives you crazy because you are so ticklish but he starts licking and sucking on them anyway. You try to pull away but he has a firm grip on your foot and sucks each toe and licks the bottom of your foot until he works his way up your leg and you think then he is going to attack your pussy but he only pauses long enough to give it a few quick teasing licks and moves down the other leg. You are begging him to eat you but he tells you again to enjoy and does the same thing to that leg and foot as he did the first one. You are wiggling all over the bed by now and he then goes up and blows gently into your pussy. By this time you are so turned on the bed under you is wet. He lifts your legs and devours your pussy with his tongue and lips. He sucks your lips into his mouth and sucks on them. He licks all around your pussy drinking in your juices and starts to lick back toward your pucker and you beg him not to, since to you it is dirty. He ignores you and does it anyway which causes you to cum since the sensations are too much for you. He drinks in this cum and goes back to licking and sucking your pussy and clit. You are in almost continuous cum now and you reach down, grab his head and forcibly pull him up your body.

You push him onto his back and dive down and suck his cock into your mouth with vengeance. You begin sucking and twirling your tongue around the head and stick it in his pee hole. You are working it with your hand as well. You have always wanted to be able to deep throat him but the opening of your throat does not allow it so you both have resigned to the fact it was never going to happen. You work your mouth down as far as you can and are giving him a blow job like no other you have ever given him when without trying he slips into your throat. You start to choke some and swallow at the same time and he slips in even further. It is then you see that everything is okay and you work your tongue around his shaft and swallow often. You are able to breathe through your nose so you both enjoy the feeling of his cock in your throat until you can feel him starting to swell and he tells you he is going to cum. You don't want him to cum just yet so you pull off and squeeze him tight around the base of his cock stopping the cum feeling. You tell him it is time he fucked you. He has let you take partial control as he knows that is doing exactly what he planned anyway.

Because he is on his back you climb on top and impale yourself on his cock, taking it completely without slowing down. You sit there with his cock deep in your pussy and only move your hips trying to get him even deeper. He reaches up and pulls your face down to his and starts kissing you and you start working your ass up and down fucking yourself with his cock. You are still so turned on that you are cumming nonstop. You have cum running out of you like a river.

You are both dripping wet. After you fuck this way for about ten minutes he rolls you off of him and tells you to get on your hands and knees as he is taking you from behind. You do so without hesitation and he sticks his cock back into your pussy and is slowly fucking you when you tell him you want to give him your ass cherry. You had promised it to him before but because you guys all but broke up it hadn't happened.

You knew you had some lube on the side table as you used it for your vibrator and you told him to get it. He got it, lubed you up, as well as his cock, and he asked if you were sure and ready. You could only moan a yes to which he put his cock at the entrance of your ass and before he could push, you pushed back into him and impaled yourself fully. You are so turned on that the pain you expected didn't happen and you both stayed still for a second getting used to the feeling. You were the one who started moving and he took over slowing fucking you in your tight, formerly virgin, ass. You told him to start fucking you harder as it was feeling so much better. He did and you were soon cumming once again. He was only able to fuck you for about two minutes when he told you that he was going to cum. You told him to pull out and cum on your tits. He did, you rolled over on your back, he crawled up and jacked himself off and within a few seconds started cumming all over your tits and because he was so turned on and you had shut him off before, he squirted hard enough to hit you on the face as well. As soon as he was done cumming he fell to your side and you both lay there catching your breathe. Before you were able to clean up he started rubbing it in to your body and face and you guys started wrestling around a bit laughing. You finally stopped and you bent over him and told him you loved him and he told you he was never going to let you go again. You both cuddled up with each other and went to sleep dreaming about life together. This is the end of this little tale and I hope you enjoyed it as much as I did writing it.